

(a) Online traffic distribution for cold-start items and popular items respectively, circles represent item groups, with circle size indicating item quantity and color denoting average viewing time per item.

(b) The histogram of prediction values on cold-start items and warm-start items. The X-axis represents the prediction value, and the Y-axis represents the sample amount of the corresponding range of scores.